Job Content

Overall purpose:

- Reinforce the Political and Trade section of the EU-Delegation in Fiji as the far-most EU-representation to the biggest number of sovereign states, spread across a vast area in the Pacific;
- Contribute to the new emerging strategy for the EU in the Pacific and to the renewal and negotiation of the Pacific part of the ACP post Cotonou process.
- Work under the direct supervision of the Head of Section and/or Head of Delegation (HoD) and contribute to:
  - Monitoring, analysis and reporting on the overall situation and development in the countries the Delegation is responsible for, including at regional level and in political relations with the EU and Member States
  - Analysis and reporting in the fields of justice, liberty, security, the rule of law, human rights as well as good governance in the host country and at regional level
  - Building strategic alliances with like-minded partners in the Pacific to counter emerging security issues and address global challenges
  - Developing trade policy, economic and business affairs
  - Leading influence on discussions of future EU-Pacific relations (Post-Cotonou)
  - Communicating effectively EU interests and promoting the EU's role as a global player.

Functions and Duties:

The successful candidate will be asked to

- 1) Carry out political analysis, suggest appropriate policies, monitor political developments, and develop political dialogue with ACP countries in the Pacific region including on trade, security, conflict prevention, consolidation of peace and migration.
- 2) Liaise with authorities in ACP countries in the Pacific, civil society, media and other relevant stakeholders in political affairs.
- 3) Ensure coherence of EU policies and complementarity with Member States' policy as well as synergies and coherence of the EU instruments.
- 4) Be responsible for the policy coordination with the European External Action Service and relevant services of the European Commission in Headquarter and will closely liaise with colleagues in the cooperation sections of the Delegation.
- 5) Monitor country/regional strategies and engage in dialogue at a high level with regional and international authorities in the Pacific, such as the Pacific Island Forum and the Melanesian Spearhead Group.
- 6) Contribute to awareness and visibility of EU policies and activities in the region.
